Our efforts around education unite us

As students prepare to finish their school year, we're taking a moment to honor all of the important work so many of our funded partners to do provide quality educational events to schools and beyond. In a normal year, SCFD organizations provide programming to every school and every school district across the seven-county metro area. As well as thousands of adults who are looking to deepen and enrich their lives. Your organization's contribution makes a difference.
